Well that was really COOL, well done Daisy - I even got the office crowding around my computer to see what the music was about (oops, I am working, honest!).

Now to show them some of the open reining too - converts perhaps?;)

I absolutely loved the video. Watched it twice already! Could somebody tell me what the music is?

Very well done to both of them.

The music is called "Bedshaped" by Vittorio Grigolo from his album entitled "In the Hands of Love".

Tell me if I'm wrong but is not the original "Bedshaped" a song by English piano rock band Keane, released as the third single from their Hopes and Fears album.
Another Rock/classic crossover!

Yes it is. Daisy just showed me the video on youtube so now I understand why the music kept making her cry. I still prefer the Vittorio version though.

Can I thank whoever for posting this video of Daisy. Working the shows as a retailer we rarely get to see any of the performances but we do get to hear the applause.

To Daisy "absolutley brilliant" to the the world, watch out for the new star from "TEAM GRAY"

DigitalDeceptions filmed the video and you could order individual classes you wanted filmed as well as an overall show DVD.

Admin, will she be at the Breed Show?

Does anybody have contact info for Digitaldeceptions? I'd love to order the DVD of Daisy. I've just watched it again and burst into tears! I'm really keen to start western but keep putting it off for various reasons. Daisy and Che are going to be my inspiration!
