
WES - 'be part of it'

Posted by CatG - 2007/10/16 00:46

This thread discusses the Content article: WES - 'be part of it'

I really look forward to your videos DDs. And thankfully nothing incriminating on there - lol. (Although both my children were having a blast!):silly:

=====

Re:WES - 'be part of it'

Posted by qhrider - 2007/10/16 10:33

WES really is fun group of people. The shows are great to attend for many of the first time competitors as everyone is cheering you on no matter what you and your horse are doing! It is nice to be with people that can find one good point in a bad performance and make you feel good about it after all and more determined to do better next time.

I love watching all the different breeds of all sorts of sizes, shapes and colours doing the best they can and sometimes better than the QHs.

AQHA is a breed organisation, BR is only one discipline but WES covers it all.

Be part of it and give it a go next show season, you may find yourself having a great time and even winning a few classes in the process.

=====

Re:WES - 'be part of it'

Posted by zenithhorses - 2007/10/16 12:29

After meeting people with cobs etc on Sunday (nice bunch of people and nice horses and ponies), I have now filled in the WES forms and intend to join. It was lovely to see natives in western tack and I'm looking forward to going to the WES shows and events next year.

=====