
Let's go SHOW.....

Posted by QQH - 2008/07/10 08:52

The SUN is out.....the arena is drying.....

Westcoast Circuit Show is on this weekend - weather forecast is good for Saturday and SundayB) :)

Who's going - I am! Went and picked up Archer from Newark yesterday - 9hr round trip due to accident on M1 which left Archer, Boo and I stationary in the lorry for over 2 hours - JOY! :ohmy:

Oh well, will be worth it - those of you up early enough to watch MIGHT get to see me on Archer in bling for the very first time (or not:whistle: , will try to choose a early class on Sunday!)B) :evil:

Still IF it happens, it might make a good You Tube addition:P

=====

Re:Let's go SHOW.....

Posted by billywhiz - 2008/07/10 09:20

so you are showing, in the sunny West Country:laugh:

Good luck see you there

=====

Re:Let's go SHOW.....

Posted by Atira - 2008/07/10 21:16

B) Good luck mate.....and dont forget to send me some piccies!!!!!!
(Oh by the way- letter in post for ya- just forgot due to busy workload-you know me!;))

=====

Re:Let's go SHOW.....

Posted by flashjac - 2008/07/11 06:55

bugr the weather!!!:angry:
As qqh put it, lets go show!!

Hope everyone has a fab time down 'ere, good luck and see you there!:P

=====

Re:Let's go SHOW.....

Posted by QQH - 2008/07/14 09:04

Well - what a FAB time we had over the weekend:P

The sun came out, I now look like rudolph with my red nose and the spectators loved the show.

For those that took the chance and attended we had a great time - BBQ on Saturday night was a masterpiece of culinary ingenuity - and vegetarians were catered for by a little more than the basic vege-burger - but the real stars were the puddings :whistle: and the atmosphere. West Coast is such a social get-together show - I got to speak to people (and drink with them too:evil:) that I have seen but not had the chance to sit and chat with before - you never quite like to interrupt the gathering outside a caravan but in "Lisa's Liquor Bar" and "Lou's Eatin' House" you had no such fears, everyone was included.

Got to take my hat off (now if I had worn it yesterday I might not be sunburnt;) to John and Lou and the show crew - from pumping water out of the arena on Friday (and Thursday and Wednesday) to ensuring competitors needs were met, they worked hard around the clock so that the first of the West Coast Circuit shows was a success. Oh, and Meghan's commentary was a delight to listen too, as was the music.

For those eagle eyed enough, yes I did ride and could be seen on both Archer and Echo. Sadly, Archer bent a slider whilst warming up and ended up not showing, but many thanks to Lucy Adams to very kindly offered to ride him for me when Lee couldn't make it down west.

Personally, I am off now to book clinics with Lucy for the Western Week and can't wait for that to come around.

Well done guys and well done all those who did say "s the weather" it was well worth it.

J)

=====

Re:Let's go SHOW.....

Posted by campbh - 2008/07/14 09:30

Hee hee I thought I spied you up on a horse Jude:P ! Fab stuff. Thanks to John, Lou, Lisa, Jo and crew for another lovely, friendly, sociable Somerset weekend - had a super time and many thanks too to the lovely gents who pushed the Bling Box out of the rut I'd created in the lorry field :blush: so we could go home! Looking forward to next month's event.

=====

Re:Let's go SHOW.....

Posted by flashjac - 2008/07/14 17:08

:woohoo: what a fab time!!
weather was great and the whole team really had worked hard to make it a success.

Many thanks to all at the Mendip for making it a pleasure to show there. Of course we wont forget Jane,Jan and dare i say it the best commentator!!:)

We'll be back next month... double the classes, double the fun??

=====

Re:Let's go SHOW.....

Posted by zenithqhorses - 2008/07/14 17:12

I'm not surprised it went well as they are such a good crew. I'm looking forward to geting down for the August show to enjoy a holiday in that area and take in the show.

=====