
Practice Show

Posted by billywhiz - 2007/11/12 09:08

Just got back from a great practice show over in Holland.

There was a great turnout with entries all after and long into the evening. Good food, good company and a very relaxed atmosphere.

Unfortunately Billy put in the biggest buck I have managed to stay on with and this destroyed any chance of success, I did manage get faultless spins, which has been a major issue for me in the show environment, so I did get a major step forward.

I highly recommend showing in this format as the pressure is not as intense and you get shouted at by the trainers and cheered for staying on.

=====