Lovely photos, looks like you got a great day for your ride! Is the Criollo Club just for horses bought through Monique, or just for local horses? Can anyone join?

The Criollo Club is for anyone who owns a Criollo - its not local for me, took over 3 1/2 hours. But its in various locations.:)

A friend of mine is looking possibly at this breed because she wants a quiet horse for a beginner in western - she was worried to be sold something not suitable and needs advice. Wittering beach is about an hour away from us. I have a youngster AQH but finding everything difficult from finding the right saddle, freelance instructor or someone more local to teach me on her....we are going round in circles..friend needs a quiet horse as both of us having a young one wouldn't be wise I think.....any advice appreciated...We live nr Farnham SurreyB)

Hi

I would suggest getting in touch with Monique at Criollo Farm, and see what she has in stock! You can go out on day rides on their company horses - fees on web site. But ive never learnt western as a discipline and ive found it fairly easy to pick up on Criollos (do think it might be a little different to usual western) its more neck reining!! Criollo Farm have a web site. Always plenty of Criollos in stock.:cheer:

Good luck

Looks like you all had a great time? I wonder if you have any details about the beach you rode on, like access and parking?

If not do you know who organised the ride so I can contact them?

Many thanks,

Cowboy.

Thsta west wittering beach in west sussex, we parked at the Bakeham Equestrian Center, and had Lunch at The Beach Hut - where the restaurant owner also let us tie up 11 Criollos.

Thanks KT,
They look pretty relaxed on that line?

Thanks for the info, I will def look into a visit down there soon as I can.

Cowboy;)

They really are relaxed!!! Its great the way they just wait so patiently for you to come back with no squabbling at all, they are used to being tied in Argentina for long periods
