Hi (admin)

I tried to email you from the link provided regarding ebay (I have something listed that I would also like to advertise on the westernshop). When I click on the link it just brings up gobblety gook. Bearing in mind my complete lack of knowledge of computers and computery things it might just me but I've managed to do it in the past so don't know if it's maybe a side effect of those evil hackers (:evil:)

I didn't know how else to contact you so you will probably want to delete this once you have read it.

My ebay user name is Kismet_94 and the item number is 290009601755, it a Western Horseman book "Starting Colts".

Thanks for your help and sorry to be a pain (again!)

Thanks, I'll remember that. Sorry for being a pain, when it comes to computers if I had half a brain I'd be dangerous!
Thanks again for your help:cheer:
