
Photo Gallery

As only one user has created a photo gallery since this new site was released, it was obviously a feature that was not required or of any use to the community. I have therefore removed it from the site. Registered users can still create their own mini personal gallery in their profile and only other registered users can view them.

When I tried to put an avitar in I got a message "Error: bmp is not a supported format."

I just went to My Pictures and got it didn't know which format it was and it has always been accepted by other forums so how do I change it to a format it will accept (And what is the acceptable format anyway it doesn't say)

Avatar image formats are jpg, gif, png and must be no bigger that 80px wide or 100 pix high.
