The Free Classifieds has been updated with extra features (users can now delete their own ads) I think it looks cleaner too! The main reason for the update is "security", user details are now only available to registered users and the whole section runs under the highest security settings.

Whoops! looks like a little bug has stopped photo uploading and editing...I am looking into it so for the moment No photos. When resolved, you will be able to add your photos to your existing ads.
